Some Dogs Do
by Jez Alborough

All dogs walk and jump and run but dogs don't fly it can't be done...or can it? I love this gorgeous story and its beautiful illustrations; it is about a dog called Sid and his amazing secret and it will captivate and excite even the wriggliest listener. A personal favourite of our team and bound to be in your house too!

It's great for talking about emotions and looking at what makes us happy. Can your child recognise some of the other feelings that Sid has in the story? Why not try looking at yourself in the mirror with your child and making faces? Try different expressions like happy, sad, angry, excited – can you read each other's faces?

Did you know that you can watch the interactive story book version on the BookTrust website? Some Dogs Do is just one of their many stories and there are loads of games and activities too.
